A One Workplace Company

Working together to create places that care.

We believe in the possibilities.

That is why we created Synergy 4 Health.

"My patients need to be surrounded by beauty and peace so that they can heal quickly."

- Acute Care Registered Nurse

Consider this. What if a space could...

- Honor the needs of precision care in a fast-paced environment as well as offer comfort and tranquility for the people who are healing
- Easily adapt to the changing times, expansion, new technology and advances in healthcare
- Connect patients, their family, as well as peers, staff and experts around the world
- Simplify complex processes by offering innovative solutions that save time and money

"I want my patients to feel like they have 100% of my attention." - General Practitioner, MD

A healthcare facility is more than just basic care and required procedures.

And the people that serve in the healthcare industry do so because of their desire to make a difference in people's lives. Synergy 4 Health understands that the focus of healthcare is not just to administer treatments, but to promote spaces that provide a positive interaction and healing.

Our goal is to support the Triad of Care: the patient, care provider, and family/care partner, and equally important, to address how place effects healing. Creating a healing environment means thoughtfully considering all the complex elements of the physical space as well as the experiences people will have in it. We understand how to help you balance the need for productivity and efficiency, empathy and intuition, from the providers who give the care, to the patients who receive it, to the organization that needs to operate and grow profitably for years to come. Dedicated to working solely with healthcare organizations, Synergy 4 Health believes the healthcare environment can be both rigorous and compassionate, research-based and in touch with what's happening in the day-to-day lives of the people using it.

"Today I was able to share some new research with a patient that gave them greater hope and perspective about their illness." - General Practitioner, MD

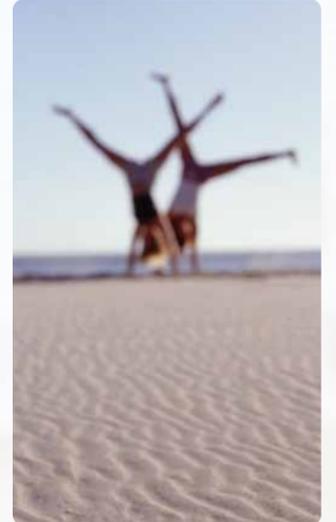

Physical Environment

Our holistic perspective addresses both the system as a whole and all the pieces – people, process, technology, equipment, furniture, space – that comprise it. We understand that the environment plays a critical role in positive patient outcomes.

Our alliance with some of the best consultants and manufacturers in the healthcare industry, like our strategic partnership with Nurture by Steelcase, keep us informed about the real needs of the end-user through a human-centered design process. This process informs our approach and helps us facilitate a more thoughtful environment, whether the space is for reviewing documents, reporting patient information, having a private conversation with the patient or simply an opportunity for respite away from the flurry of activity.

Synergy 4 Health understands some of the pressing issues facing healthcare today and we tailor our offering to consider things like: the adoption of electronic medical records, HIPAA compliance, seismic upgrades, patient and caregiver safety, OSHPD compliance, and environmentally sensitive products and materials. We can develop integrated nurses' stations that help reduce traffic and paperwork, or administer new technology solutions so that you can chart, record and review a patient's progress all within a functional and confidential space.

How can the tools we provide and the space we create make your job easier and more efficient?

"I want a work environment that provides comfort and privacy for difficult conversations, and access to tools that capture and share information."

– ER Nurse Practitioner

Education & Safety

Synergy 4 Health carefully chooses its partners based not only on the kinds of solutions they offer, but also on the way in which they offer support and service for those items. When we work with a partner we require that their furniture, equipment or tools properly address patient and worker safety. Whether it is by helping to reduce workmen comp costs, providing lifts that help move patients for bariatric and patient transfer needs, or offering exceptional customer education, training and service, we understand what matters most is a safe working environment.

We believe that receiving the proper training and education around how to use a new tool is just as important as the tool itself. That is why we make sure our partners are service oriented and provide in depth training and education for nurses, staff and doctors. We understand that if a new piece of equipment doesn't get used effectively it won't get used at all.

We offer the training and information that help alleviate the safety concerns for a provider, and ensure you know how to use the tools you buy.

What kind of a learning curve will you have for a new piece of equipment before you can use it safely and effectively?

"I want to work for a provider that invests in the latest technology and services, so that I can spend more time caring for my patients."

- Pre & Post Op Registered Nurse

How can our facilities management team alleviate some of your burden, so you can focus on the more important parts of your job?

Service & Operations

Managing healthcare facilities efficiently is critical to ensuring the health and safety of patients and caregivers. The Synergy 4 Health services model is rare. We can take a complex piece of the healthcare procurement and fulfillment process and troubleshoot known problems for you.

Whether it's facilitating day-to-day purchasing, consolidating items from multiple vendors, or just-in-time delivery of furniture, our services free you from having to manage these smaller pieces, so you can focus on the major equipment and medical tools that need to be in place.

Synergy 4 Health's facilities management services can help manage the whole process for you by being the single point of contact amongst various suppliers. Our on-site project managers can take care of all the supporting details like making sure all the right tools and equipment are stocked in a patient room so a caregiver can walk in and do their job without delay. For example, in an exam room we can manage the purchasing, delivery and installation, clean up and debris removal of everything from the cabinetry, stools, desk, chairs, instrument panels, magazine rack, exam table and more, so you can focus on the bigger equipment needed.

Our ability to handle project complexity simplifies things for you and reduces cost. We offer a web-based tool, accessible online 24/7, so you can see exactly what will fit within your facility's standards. This turnkey purchasing process reduces the number of P.O.'s issued, and cuts down on paperwork. And our just-in-time delivery frees up valuable space in your facility.

Everything we do begins with the most important objective -

Providing the best possible care to people in need of health and healing. It's our job to enable this excellent care by creating the physical spaces that allow providers to give care, patients to receive it and care partners to support it.

Synergy 4 Health works with you to create places that care.
