

About Synergy 4 Health

At Synergy 4 Health our goal is to support the Triad of Care, and to address how place effects healing. Creating a healing environment means thoughtfully considering the complex elements of the physical space as well as the experiences people will be having in it. We've assembled a group of product, equipment and planning experts, to help solve problems faced every day. We'll manage the entire process for you, allowing you to do what you do best...providing the best possible care for those in need of health and healing.

Our Partners

Nurture by Steelcase looks at healthcare environments and sees the potential for transforming them to make lives better for patients, caregivers and partners in care. Nurture by Steelcase imagines spaces that are more productive and comfortable. Less chaotic and stressful. Nurture by Steelcase believes spaces can inspire. Provide hope. And in an ideal world, promote healing.
